Part 2

Terms of Reference and Consultancy Brief

Terms of Reference for the Consultancy Input into the Gas Distribution Networks Annual Cost Reporting Project

Background to NIAUR

- 1) The Northern Ireland Authority for Utility Regulation (the Utility Regulator) is a Non-Ministerial Government Department. It is headed by a Board of Directors, comprising seven non-executive Directors and one executive Director - the Utility Regulator's Chief Executive. The Utility Regulator's Chairman is Peter Matthews. It is not a policy-making Department of Government and its role is to ensure that the utility industries in Northern Ireland are regulated and developed within the strategic policy parameters determined by Ministers. Within the office, NIAUR currently has approximately 65 staff. The Utility Regulator's annual budget is around £7 million.
- 2) The scope and volume of the Utility Regulator's work has expanded considerably in recent years. In recognition of this, the staff levels of the office doubled during 2007, including the recruitment of a new tier of management at Director level.
- 3) In March 2009, the Utility Regulator published its Forward Work Programme for 2009-10. The programme, together with further information about the work of the Utility Regulator, may be viewed at www.niaur.gov.uk. Also available from the website, is our 5 year Corporate Strategy document.

Energy

- 4) The Utility Regulator's objectives are set out in the respective Electricity and Gas Orders as amended by the Energy (Northern Ireland) Order. It has two main objectives:
- 5) To protect the interests of electricity consumers with regard to price and quality of service by promoting competition in the Generation and Supply of Electricity; and
- 6) To promote the development and maintenance of an economic and coordinated gas industry and to protect the interests of gas consumers with regard to price and quality of service.
- 7) The Utility Regulator also places a high priority on sustainable development in the energy sector and promotes measures which will most effectively support renewables, CHP and energy efficiency.
- 8) The electricity and natural gas industries occupy a central position in the NI economy and provide essential services for domestic, industrial and commercial electricity and gas customers.

- 9) There are around 100,000 gas customers in Northern Ireland, mostly in the Greater Belfast area. Northern Ireland's gas infrastructure is still under construction and connection rates have been high over the last decade. Northern Ireland has around 760,000 electricity consumers with load split around 60/40 between domestic and non-domestic customers. (Northern Ireland has significantly less energy-intensive industry than GB.) Peak load in Northern Ireland is around 1,700MW and total demand around 9GWh. This electricity is generated by three main power stations, plus a large number of smaller and renewable stations. Significant volumes are imported from Scotland through the 450MW Moyle interconnector, and there is a 500MW interconnector to the Republic of Ireland.
- 10) The small scale of the Northern Ireland market creates security of supply challenges and significant cost. In 2004 the UK and Republic of Ireland governments set a policy framework for moving to an all-island energy market. A major element of this strategy is the creation of a Single Electricity Market (SEM) which has just gone live. Another element is the creation of Common Arrangements for Gas (CAG) which is currently underway.

Water

- 11) The Water Directorate was established on 1 April 2007 with the specific responsibility for the economic regulation of the water and sewerage industries in Northern Ireland. Our principal role is to regulate Northern Ireland Water Ltd (NIW) in a way that provides incentives and encourages the company to achieve the highest possible service for customers in terms of both quality and value.
- 12) The Utility Regulator's duties with respect to water and sewerage are broadly in line with the role currently discharged by Ofwat in England and Wales, although somewhat wider in one or two instances (e.g. we have somewhat wider functions in relation to treatment of land disposals for example).
- 13) The group is also working with NIW to agree the content of their annual returns for 2007 and 2008. These record the company's activity and performance in considerable detail and will be used to support the Utility Regulator's first report on the NI water industry.

Other Work Streams

- 14) The Utility Regulator also holds a number of competition law powers and is Northern Ireland's competition authority for the industries it regulates. The Utility Regulator is also uniquely placed as the UK's only cross-utility regulator and Northern Ireland's only non-ministerial government department. These facts create challenges and opportunities in equal measure which the Utility Regulator is keen to address over the coming years.

- 15) The Utility Regulator is also responsible for certain aspects of the Government's "green" agenda and works daily on administrative and monitoring aspects of Northern Ireland's Renewables Obligation (with assistance from Ofgem on an agency basis), via the issuance of Renewables Obligation Certificates. It also has a guiding role to play with the Northern Ireland's Energy Efficiency Levy. The Utility Regulator also has a role in working with the regulated companies to deliver Social Action Plans.
- 16) The Utility Regulator has quasi-judicial powers to determine certain complaints, disputes and appeals. It is expected that this role will expand over time as both industry and consumers come to terms with their regulatory rights.

TERMS OF REFERENCE FOR THE CONSULTANCY PROJECT

Background to Project

- 17) Recent work on the Common Arrangements for Gas (CAG) retail work-stream has presented options for an enduring solution for retail harmonisation on an all island basis. It has also been identified that this enduring solution could take some time to be realised and in the interim some work is required on the Northern Ireland (NI) gas retail markets' systems in order to facilitate competition. In order to optimise any solution for this interim period, facilitate competition, and minimise the magnitude of any investment which could ultimately be stranded by a subsequent enduring solution some work is required.
- 18) Thus it is intended that aspects of the systems and processes supporting the gas retail market in Northern Ireland are examined with proposals made for the interim solution.

Requirements

- 19) Consultancy support is needed to:
- a) Examine the existing change of supplier processes employed by Phoenix Natural Gas Limited (PNGL)
 - b) Examine the existing IT systems supporting the change of supplier processes
 - c) Provide proposals for the options to improve the IT systems and processes to support larger number of customer switches
 - d) Provide proposals for the options in offering switching for the Pay as You Go systems which supports the different prepayment meters
 - e) Examine the flexibility and scalability of the options for potential future more enduring solutions
 - f) Examine other relevant aspects of gas IT as required
 - g) Ensure that the delivery of the optimal options meets all expectations
- 20) The appointed consultant(s) will be expected to work closely with the Utility Regulator and with the relevant regulated companies.

Expected Skills/ Experience

21) Tenderers should demonstrate in their responses how their skills/ experiences can deliver against the various aspects of the assignment. We expect that the successful consultant(s) will likely offer a mix of skills and experience including:

- i. Utility IT Retail infrastructure knowledge/ skills;
- ii. Understanding of Gas Industry codes and processes;
- iii. Experience of working with the gas industry (and/ or other regulated industries); and
- iv. Experience of working with utility regulators.

Deliverables

22) There are two main deliverables that the appointed consultant(s) must produce:

- a) An optimum interim solution for Gas Retail Systems and Processes in Northern Ireland
- b) Effectively and pragmatically delivered solution within a reasonable budget.

23) Following on from the initial work highlighted above, and dependant on the outcomes of that work, some further work on the retail systems and processes may be required in both the Greater Belfast area and the ten towns area of Northern Ireland.

24) Further consideration may also be necessary to see how the retail processes in these areas might best interface and align with retail processes in the Republic of Ireland.

25) In addition to the FINAL version of the above solution, the appointed consultant(s) must provide the Utility Regulator with all working papers or otherwise necessary to provide a full audit trail with details of how the deliverables were constructed from beginning to end.

Envisaged Inputs and Timetable

26) We expect to appoint by the start of November 2009, and the assignment to commence immediately on appointment.

27) The contract will operate on a 'call off' basis for two years with the possibility of extending for one further year. It is envisaged that the consultant usage will be approximately 15-20 man days per year.

Relationship between the Utility Regulator and Successful Provider(s)

- 28) Relationships must be centred on the need for mutual confidence, understanding of role, co-operation and where necessary confidentiality/ sensitivity of information. The successful provider(s) must ensure that all services provided respect the highly sensitive nature of the specialist work of the Utility Regulator and the need for the highest quality level of content.
- 29) Considerable communication will be required between the winning consultant(s) and the Utility Regulator personnel in the gas team. This needs to be a fundamental aspect of the assignment. To aid this, the project will be led by a project manager (Neil Bingham) within the Utility Regulator.

Reporting Requirements

- 30) The Utility Regulator shall be entitled to establish such monitoring and budgetary arrangements in relation to the operation of the contract as the Utility Regulator acting reasonably may deem appropriate. The winning tenderer will be required to provide such assistance and co-operation as necessary.

Information to be supplied by Service Provider

- 31) Prospective providers should indicate in full in their tenders how they will meet the Utility Regulator's requirements, and should provide at least the following specific information in their tenders:
- i. Approach of how the supplier will work with the Utility Regulator to understand their requirements and offer a flexible, value for money service which helps the Utility Regulator to deliver on its objectives and deliver in the stated timescale; this should include level of partner/ senior level commitment to delivering advice; proposed ways of working with the Utility Regulator to ensure that the provider understands the Utility Regulator's needs and can deliver robust advice.
 - ii. Demonstrate an in-depth knowledge of the issues. Consultants should also show a sound track record of experience in providing this type of required services.
 - iii. The resources (e.g. pen pictures and concise CVs of personnel) the provider will commit to carrying out and delivering the project, with particular reference to the experience and capabilities of assigned staff (as opposed to general firm experience) which are relevant to the services required.

- iv. Costs for carrying out and delivering services by the provider, according to the Terms of Reference - this will include fixed daily rates of all staff identified. Providers should also include an indication of envisaged out of pocket expenses to be incurred.

- i. Approach/ methodology in delivering the services. This should include envisaged time commitments of each proposed consultant and ways of working with the Utility Regulator (30%).
- ii. Expertise, knowledge and depth of experience of the proposed staff in meeting the requirements of the Utility Regulator. All proposals must include skills/ experience/ relevant work history of staff to be involved in providing services to the Utility Regulator (40%).
