Dear Karen and Liz,

Consultation on the Licence Modification for Provision of Information (excluding Supply Licences)

Thank you for the opportunity to respond to the above consultation. Evolve recognises that the proposed change helps better facilitate the UR in carrying out its function to promote the interests of consumers, whilst also supporting the ambition to become a more pro-active regulator. We appreciate that the change brings greater alignment between licences which brings positive benefits such as greater transparency of information.

We note that the consultation recognises that Article 7 places some constraints on the UR in terms of the publication of information and the need to consult prior to publishing any advice. Evolve welcome continued engagement with the UR in relation to any decision to publish information obtained under this licence condition. We are also keen to ensure that the impact of publishing any information is clearly understood and that doing so provides benefit to consumers.

Yours sincerely
